

DURRIE VISION

New Laser Technology Enhances LASIK Surgery Safety, Precision, Results

December 3, 2003

A recent study completed by Dr. Daniel Durrie has proven that Intralase-enhanced LASIK surgery provides better vision results than traditional LASIK.

Stahl Vision Center Merges with Durrie Vision

September 5, 2003

Jason Stahl, M.D., an area ophthalmologist specializing in refractive surgery and cataract & lens implant surgery, has merged his practice with that of Dan Durrie, M.D, one of the area's leading refractive surgeons.

Durrie Vision Announces Program for the Disabled

July 21, 2003

Daniel Durrie, MD, announced today the official launch of the Durrie Vision Program for the Disabled, which provides free surgery for individuals with physical conditions that prevent them from handling their glasses and contacts without assistance.

Channel 5 reporter Anne Peterson has CK

February 28, 2003

Finding it difficult to read without a pair of reading glasses, local reporter Anne Peterson decided to try a new procedure to bring her vision back into focus, Conductive Keratoplasty (CK).